TUTORING ON FAWRII PAGE

PAGE STRUCTURE

1. Hero - decision clarity
2. Director video — human reassurance
3. Why tutors choose Fawrii — value summary
4. How you'll work on Fawrii — quick recap
5. What's expected of tutors — standards, clearly stated
6. What applying means (and doesn't) — risk removal
7. Who Fawrii is / isn't for — self-selection
8. Parent reassurance (secondary)
9. Final decision CTA

.....

HERO SECTION

Headline: Tutor on your terms

Subheading: A tutor-first platform where you set your rates, choose how you teach, and work within clear professional standards, with support when you need it.

Optional additions (use only if space allows)
Small supporting line beneath the main sentence: Everything runs within the platform, so expectations are clear, and support is available when needed.

Primary CTA (shown prominently): Apply to Become a Tutor

Secondary CTA: How it works

HERO PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To excite tutors by signalling autonomy, professionalism, and a platform that respects how they work.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "Is this a serious, well-thought-through platform that gives me control and treats tutoring properly?"

Visual guidance

Layout
- Headline as the dominant visual element
- Supporting copy lighter in weight and clearly secondary
- CTAs immediately visible without scrolling
- Leave enough vertical space so the hero feels calm, not crowded

Imagery / visuals
- Use real tutors in calm, professional home or study environments
- Tutors should appear focused and composed, not posed or celebratory
- Imagery should suggest confidence, competence, and independence

Do NOT show:

- Stock marketplace imagery
- Smiling-at-camera “promo” shots
- Any urgency cues or callouts

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

- Mobile must show headline, supporting line, and primary CTA above the fold
- Director video teaser should appear immediately below the hero, clearly separated
- Avoid stacking additional copy between the hero and the video

Director video integration (important)

- Place the video directly below the hero, as planned
- Include a short line above the video:

Intro copy above video:

A short message from the team behind Fawrii.

.....

MAIN BODY SECTIONS

SECTION 1

Headline: Why tutors choose Fawrii

Copy:

Tutors choose Fawrii because it respects their time, skills, and professionalism.

It’s designed to support tutors who want clarity, control, and a platform that takes their work seriously.

What that means in practice:

- You decide how and when you tutor
- You set your own rates
- Clear rules and safeguards support your work
- You’re not pushed into undercutting or competing on price alone

This is a platform built for sustainable, professional tutoring, not short-term gigs or volume-driven marketplaces.

CTA: Apply to Become a Tutor

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To reinforce the core value of Fawrii and help tutors quickly understand how it differs from typical tutoring platforms.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: What do I actually gain by choosing Fawrii over other platforms?

Visual guidance

Layout

- Section sits immediately below the hero
- Headline followed by a short intro sentence
- Bullet list is the main visual anchor
- CTA placed beneath the section, clearly separated

Graphics / diagrams

- Use a simple icon list, one icon per bullet
- Icons should represent:
    - Control or flexibility
    - Pricing ownership
    - Support or protection
    - Professional standards
- Icons should be neutral and understated

Do NOT illustrate:

- Competition, leaderboards, or rankings
- Pricing battles or “lowest price” cues
- Gig economy or marketplace visuals

The visual should communicate stability and professionalism, not hustle.

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

- On mobile, stack bullets clearly with icons aligned left
- Keep line length short to avoid dense blocks of text
- Ensure the CTA remains visible without scrolling too far

.....

SECTION 2

Headline: How you’ll work on Fawrii

Copy:

Fawrii gives tutors clear options without forcing a single way of working.
You choose what you offer, when you’re available, and how you teach.

Across all lesson types:

- Nothing is assigned to you
- You opt into the work you want
- Teaching takes place in a structured, platform-based environment

You can offer one format, mix them, or change over time.

The same formats you earn through are the formats you work in - just with different levels of flexibility and scale.

.

CTA below section: See how tutoring works

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To reassure tutors that the platform is flexible, tutor-controlled, and familiar - without re-explaining pay or mechanics.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: “Do I understand how I’d actually work on this platform day to day?”

Visual guidance:

Layout

- Use the same 3-column layout as the Pay & lesson-type section
    - Identical column widths
    - Identical spacing and alignment
    - Identical column order
- This section must visually read as a companion to the Pay section, not a new system
- Do not introduce a different grid, card style, or background treatment

Column order must remain:

1. Booked 1-to-1 lessons
2. Instant 1-to-1 tutoring
3. Live classes & courses

Graphics / diagrams

- Reuse the same column headers and icons as the Pay section
    - Same titles
    - Same icon family and sizing
- Content inside columns is lighter than the Pay section
    - No earnings language
    - No summaries
    - No comparison rows

Each column should communicate how the tutor works, not how they earn:

Booked 1-to-1

- Planned sessions
- Tutor-set availability
- Ongoing students

Instant 1-to-1

- Opt-in availability
- On-demand requests
- Short, focused sessions

Classes & courses

- Tutor-led structure
- Multiple students
- Repeatable delivery

Icons may support understanding but must not replace text.

Typography & hierarchy

- Headings, spacing, and text sizes must match the Pay section exactly
- Body copy should be shorter and lighter than the Pay section
- Avoid bold emphasis or visual weight that competes with the Pay comparison

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

Desktop
- Three columns displayed side-by-side
- Visually mirrors the Pay section when scrolling

Mobile
- Columns stack vertically in the same order as the Pay section
- No reordering or prioritisation changes

.....

SECTION 3

Headline: Professional standards you can stand behind

Copy:

Fawrii is designed for tutors who care about doing good work — and being supported while they do it.

That means we ask tutors to work with:

- Professional communication with learners and families
- Clear boundaries around sessions and contact
- Reliability and preparedness for booked lessons
- Respect for safeguarding standards at all times

These standards aren't about box-ticking.

They exist to protect tutors, set clear expectations, and maintain a trusted learning environment for everyone.

CTA: Read safeguarding & standards

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To signal professionalism as a shared value, and reassure tutors that expectations are reasonable, clear, and supportive.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "What level of professionalism does this platform expect - and will it feel fair?"

Visual guidance:

Layout
- Single-column section with:
  - Headline

    - Short introductory paragraph
    - Checklist-style bullet list
- Spacing should feel calm and breathable, not dense
- This section should feel settled, not instructional or corrective

Graphics / diagrams

- Use a checklist format with:
    - Soft, neutral tick icons
    - No warning symbols, alerts, or bold emphasis
- Icons should:
    - Support scanning
    - Never overpower the text
- Avoid any visuals that imply enforcement, monitoring, or compliance audits

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

Desktop

- Full-width text block with comfortable line length
- Icons aligned neatly to the left of bullet text

Mobile

- Bullets stack cleanly with icons above or inline
- Maintain generous spacing between list items to avoid crowding

What not to include

- No red, amber, or warning colour cues
- No “rules” or “requirements” language in headings
- No long explanations or policy excerpts

.....

SECTION 4

Headline: You’re in control from the start

Copy:

Applying to Fawrii is simply how you begin the process.

It means:

- You're not committing to take work
- You're not locking yourself into fixed hours
- You're not expected to accept lessons immediately
- You decide when, how, and whether you start tutoring

Your application is reviewed carefully to maintain professional standards, and you'll be guided clearly through what happens next before anything goes live.

CTA: Apply to Become a Tutor

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To remove final hesitation by making it clear that applying is low-pressure and tutor-controlled.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "If I apply, am I committing myself to anything?"

Visual guidance:

Layout
- Compact reassurance section placed immediately before a primary CTA
- Headline → short paragraph → bullets → CTA
- Visually lighter than feature or comparison sections

This should feel like a moment of calm before action, not a decision funnel.

Graphics / diagrams
- Include a small, unobtrusive mini-timeline:
  - Apply → Review → Onboard
- Timeline should:
  - Use neutral dots or understated icons
  - Sit beneath the bullets or alongside the copy
  - Reinforce sequence, not speed or pressure
- Timeline may be placed inside a soft-edged reassurance panel but must not look like a warning box.

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

Desktop
- Timeline appears inline or directly beneath bullets
- Balanced spacing so CTA remains clearly visible

Mobile
- Timeline stacks vertically or compresses into labels
- CTA remains easily reachable without excessive scrolling

.....

SECTION 5

Headline: A platform built for professional tutors

Copy

Fawrii is designed for tutors who want to take their work seriously — and be supported while they do it.

It's a strong fit if you're looking for:

- Professional tutoring work that still fits around your life
- Ownership over how you teach and what you charge
- Clear standards and reliable support, so you're not working alone

It may not be the right fit if you're looking for:

- Quick, one-off gigs with little structure
- Informal setups outside a proper platform
- Work with no shared expectations around quality or conduct

The goal is a calm, well-run environment where tutors can focus on doing their best work — and grow sustainably over time.

CTA: Apply to Become a Tutor

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To help tutors self-select with confidence by presenting Fawrii as a considered, professional choice.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "Is this a platform I'd be proud to work with long term?"

Visual guidance:

Layout

- Two-column layout with equal prominence
  - Left column: A good fit if you're looking for…
  - Right column: Less suitable if you're looking for…
- Headline and short intro span the full width above both columns
- Maintain generous spacing to avoid the section feeling evaluative or critical

Graphics / diagrams

- Visual distinction should be subtle and balanced:
  - Soft background contrast or divider line
  - No strong colour coding
- Icons (optional):
  - Calm, neutral icons on both sides
  - Identical style and visual weight
- This should feel values-led, not rule-driven

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

Desktop

- Two columns side by side
- Equal width and alignment

Mobile

- Columns stack vertically
- “Good fit” content appears first
- Clear headings retained for context

.....

SECTION 6

Headline: Trusted by schools and families. Built for tutors.

Copy:

Fawrii is designed to work well for everyone involved in tutoring; tutors, learners, parents, and schools.

The platform provides:

- Verified tutors, approved through a clear onboarding process
- Professional standards that set shared expectations
- Built-in safeguarding, supporting safe, accountable learning

These foundations create confidence for parents and schools, while giving tutors a clear, well-structured environment to work in.

Trust and structure are built into the platform, so lessons can run smoothly for everyone.

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To provide quiet reassurance for parents and schools while reinforcing that tutors remain the primary audience.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: “Will parents and schools see this as a credible, safe platform?”

Visual treatment:

Layout

- Short, contained section placed near the end of the page
- Headline followed by a compact text block
- Visually lighter than tutor-focused sections

This should feel like background reassurance, not a pivot in audience.

Graphics / diagrams

- No diagrams or process flows
- Optional subtle trust cues only:
    - Neutral icons (shield, check, or badge style)
    - Small and secondary to the text

- Avoid:
    - Stock imagery of parents
    - Compliance or warning visuals
    - Anything that reframes this as a parent-focused section

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

Desktop
- Single-column, narrow text width
- Plenty of white space above and below

Mobile
- Same content, stacked naturally
- Keep section visually brief so it doesn't interrupt flow

.....

SECTION 7

Headline: A clear next step, when you're ready

Copy:

You can apply in your own time.

Everything is explained clearly before you commit, and you stay in control at every stage.

Primary CTA button: Apply to Become a Tutor

Secondary CTA(s)

- How it works
- Read safeguarding & standards

VISUAL GUIDE

Placement
- Final section at the bottom of the page
- Full-width band or clearly separated closing block

Visual tone
- Quiet and confidence-building
- Generous white space

- Visually calmer than the sections above

What should NOT be included

- No icons or illustrations
- No urgency cues (arrows, emphasis colours, countdowns)
- No additional feature or reassurance copy

This CTA should feel like a natural conclusion - calm, considered, and ready when the tutor is.

……..