HERO SECTION

Headline: Built by people who know tutoring

Supporting Copy:

Fawrii was created to give tutors a fairer, safer, and more professional way to work online.

It's built by people with real experience in education and in building platforms that tutors can rely on.

Primary CTA (shown prominently): Become a Tutor

Secondary CTA: How it works

HERO PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To establish credibility and trust by showing that Fawrii is grounded in real educational experience, not abstract tech thinking.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "Is this platform being built by people who genuinely understand tutoring and education?"

Visual guidance

Layout

- Standard hero layout:
  - Headline first
  - Short supporting copy beneath
  - CTAs clearly visible but not dominant
- Keep copy width restrained to improve readability
- This hero should feel introductory and grounding, not promotional

Graphics / diagrams

- Use warm, human photography, not illustrations
- Prefer:
    - Real people in professional tutoring or education-adjacent settings
    - Calm, natural expressions
    - Everyday environments (home workspace, learning spaces)
- Avoid:
    - Abstract shapes or “tech platform” visuals
    - Stock images that feel staged or overly corporate
    - Icons, diagrams, or feature callouts

Imagery should quietly reinforce: experience, care, credibility.

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

Desktop

- Headline and copy aligned left or centre-left
- Image supports the copy, not the other way around

Mobile

- Headline and copy appear before imagery
- CTAs remain immediately accessible without scrolling

Director video integration (important)

- Place the video directly below the hero.
- Video shorter than homepage and become a tutor page or a different video
- Include a short line above the video:

Intro copy above video:

MAIN BODY SECTIONS

SECTION 1

Headline: Why Fawrii exists

Copy:

Fawrii was created by people who know tutoring, because we kept hearing the same concerns from good tutors.

They loved teaching, but felt frustrated by platforms that didn't reflect how professional tutoring actually works. Too often, tutors found themselves on systems that:

- Reduced their control over how they taught
- Prioritised volume over quality
- Offered little support when something went wrong

We believed tutoring deserved a better standard.

Fawrii was built to give tutors a professional environment they can trust. One shaped by real experience in education, with the systems, safeguards, and structure needed to support good tutoring properly.

That belief shaped how the platform was built from the start.

CTA: How tutoring works on Fawrii

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To explain the motivation behind Fawrii and establish that the platform was built in response to real tutor frustrations.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "Why does this platform exist, and what problem is it trying to fix?"

Visual guidance

Layout

- Section placed immediately below the About Us hero
- Headline followed by short narrative copy
- Bullet list used only to highlight shared tutor frustrations

The section should feel like context-setting, not persuasion.

Graphics / diagrams

- Use a simple left-to-right or top-to-bottom visual flow:
  - Common frustrations
  - Clear, considered response
- Icons (if used):
  - Minimal and neutral
  - One icon per idea at most
- Avoid:
  - Heavy illustration
  - Overly literal "problem" imagery

- Anything that feels emotive or dramatic

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

Desktop
- Comfortable line length
- Bullets clearly separated from paragraphs

Mobile
- Paragraphs and bullets stack naturally
- Keep the section visually light to avoid fatigue early on

SECTION 2

Headline: Our mission and values

Copy:

Our mission is to provide a professional tutoring platform that tutors can trust.

This means building systems, standards, and safeguards that support good tutors and create a safe, structured learning environment.

In practice, this means:

- Tutors remain in control of how they work, when they teach, and what they charge
- Clear professional standards set expectations and protect tutors who work properly
- Safeguarding is built into the platform to protect both tutors and learners
- Support routes are in place so tutors are not left to manage issues alone
- Decisions are made with long-term quality and sustainability in mind

We are not focused on scale for its own sake.

Our priority is to run a platform that is clear, well governed, and professionally run.

CTA: Become a Tutor

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To clearly state the principles that guide how Fawrii is run and how decisions are made.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: “What values and standards actually sit behind this platform?”

Visual guidance:

Layout
- Single-column section following “Why Fawrii exists”
- Headline → short framing paragraph → bullet list → short closing line
- Spacing should make the bullets easy to scan without feeling like a checklist

Graphics / diagrams

- No icons, badges, shields, or value graphics
- This section should feel editorial and grounded, not branded or promotional

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

- Keep line length restrained on desktop for readability
- Bullets stack cleanly with generous vertical spacing on mobile

SECTION 3

Headline: Who's behind Fawrii

Copy:

Fawrii is built and run by a small team with hands-on experience in education and tutoring, supported by people who understand safeguarding, compliance, and how to build reliable platforms.

This isn't a product designed in isolation. We work closely with tutors, listen carefully to feedback, and shape the platform around real tutoring workflows and day-to-day realities.

That means decisions are made with care, responsibility, and a clear understanding of what tutors need to do their work properly. You're dealing with real people, not a faceless platform.

CTA: Read safeguarding & standards

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To reassure tutors that Fawrii is run by competent, accountable people who understand education and take responsibility seriously.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "Who is actually behind this platform, and do they understand tutoring?"

Visual guidance:

Layout

- Single-column section following "Our mission and values"
- Headline → short paragraph → short reinforcing paragraph
- Keep line lengths comfortable and editorial, not dense

Graphics / diagrams

- Use real team photography only
- Photos should feel natural and understated: people at work, informal professionalism
- Avoid posed, corporate, or stock-style imagery
- No icons, illustrations, or abstract visuals

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

- On desktop, text and imagery should sit side-by-side or stacked with generous spacing

- On mobile, imagery should sit above or below text, never interrupting reading flow

SECTION 4

Headline: How we see tutors

Copy:

We don't see tutors as profiles, availability slots, or interchangeable supply.

We see tutors as skilled professionals, trusted adults working with young people, and people who deserve clarity, fairness, and proper support.

That view runs through everything on Fawrii, from how pricing works, to how safeguarding is handled, to how concerns are reviewed and resolved.

CTA: Become a Tutor

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To clearly position tutors as professionals who are respected, trusted, and supported by the platform.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "How does this platform actually view tutors like me?"

Visual guidance:

Layout
- Narrow content width to give this an editorial, reflective feel
- Headline followed by short paragraph blocks (no long text runs)
- Generous vertical spacing to avoid visual density

Graphics / diagrams
- No diagrams or icons
- Use subtle typographic emphasis only (line breaks, weight, spacing)
- Optional soft divider above or below to frame this as a reflective section

Desktop vs mobile behaviour
- Desktop: centred or slightly offset text block for a considered feel
- Mobile: full-width text with preserved spacing and line breaks
- Ensure this section feels calm and intentional, not compressed

……..

SECTION 5

Headline: Built with long-term responsibility in mind

Copy

Fawrii is being built carefully, with a clear view of the long term.

That means focusing on:

- Sustainable growth, not short-term scale
- Clear governance and consistent standards
- Long-term trust with tutors, families, and partners

This isn't an experiment or a quick launch.

It's a platform designed to stand up over time, and one tutors can feel comfortable being associated with.

CTA: Apply to Become a Tutor

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To reassure tutors that the platform is stable, considered, and designed for long-term responsibility.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: "Is this platform serious, stable, and built to last?"

Visual guidance:

Layout

- Full-width section with restrained vertical spacing
- Headline followed by short paragraph, then bullet list
- Keep text block moderately narrow to maintain a considered, editorial feel

Graphics / diagrams

- Optional abstract timeline or stepped progression graphic
- No dates, milestones, targets, or growth metrics
- Visual should suggest continuity and care, not speed or scale

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

- Desktop: text left-aligned with subtle visual element offset to the side
- Mobile: stack text first, graphic below
- Ensure the section feels calm and reassuring, not visually busy

.....

SECTION 6

Headline: Built on trust for everyone involved

Copy:

Fawrii is designed to work well for tutors, while giving parents and schools the confidence they need.

The platform provides:

- A structured online tutoring environment
- Verified tutors working to clear professional standards
- Safeguarding and accountability built into how sessions run

This reassurance is built into the system itself, without shaping how tutors teach or work.

PURPOSE AND VISUAL GUIDE

Purpose of this section: To quietly reassure parents and schools, without shifting focus away from tutors.

Key question we are answering for a tutor: “Will parents and schools feel confident in this platform?”

Visual treatment:

Layout

- Narrow, centred text block to signal a supporting, not dominant, section
- Visually lighter than primary tutor-facing sections
- Clear separation from surrounding sections using spacing rather than dividers

Graphics / diagrams

- Optional subtle trust cue (e.g. understated shield or check motif)
- No parent or child photography
- No platform feature diagrams or UI screenshots

Desktop vs mobile behaviour

- Desktop: centred, single-column layout
- Mobile: identical structure with generous vertical spacing
- Section should feel calm, quiet, and confidence-building, not promotional

.....

SECTION 7

Headline: A clear next step, when you're ready

Copy:

If Fawrii feels like the right environment for how you want to tutor, you can take the next step in your own time.

Applying is straightforward, low-risk, and designed to give you clarity, not commitment.

Primary CTA button: Become a Tutor

Secondary CTA(s)

- How it works
- Read safeguarding & standards
- Apply to Become a Tutor

(Secondary CTAs presented as quiet text links)

VISUAL GUIDE

Placement

- Final section on the page
- Full-width band with generous vertical spacing
- Clearly separated from content above through whitespace, not dividers

Visual tone

- Quiet, confidence-building, and settled
- Feels like a natural conclusion, not a push

What should NOT be included

- No icons or illustrations
- No directional arrows, countdowns, or urgency cues
- No testimonials or badges
- No contrasting or high-energy colours
